The Christian Sunday school is enjoying a great revival. This is evident not only in the whole attendance but in the adult Bible classes. It is very encouraging when men and women take such an interest in the Bible school.

The Hilldale school had a good day. To the head of the county column they go. Rev. J. A. Davis, pastor of Baptist church, gave a splendid address which was greatly appreciated.

BABY BOONE.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boone, of East Third street, are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a fine baby boy Sunday evening.

SUNDAY WAS GREAT DAY AT THE REVIVAL

Large Audiences Hear Pastor Mullen At Christian Church Both Sunday Services.

The evangelistic services at the Christian church brought out large crowds at both Sunday services. The evening service especially was a capacity house, practically all the seats in the large auditorium being filled and quite a number in the gallery. The singing was inspiring at both services under the able leadership of L. A. Britton with a fine chorus. Special music was rendered at both services much to the delight of those present.

True greatness is always marked by simplicity. Truly great principles are not hedged about by abstruse and complicated conditions but on the contrary are so plainly stated that he who runs may read. Just this sort of simplicity characterize all the sermons of John Mullen the pastor. He preaches the gospel straight from the shoulder and with such dignity of bearing and such sanity of thought that the warfarer man may not err therein. No complicated questions on theology but just the plain simple gospel which not only appeals to the intellect but goes straight to the heart as well.

Several united with the church, some by letter others by confession, thus indicating their intention of identifying themselves with the Christian life of our community. Everybody is cordially welcomed at these services and they will continue right through this week. Come out and lend your presence and your interest to a good cause. Every evening at 7:15 except Saturday.

LEG BROKEN IN COASTING ACCIDENT SATURDAY NIGHT.

Charles Jones, veteran of the World War, suffered a compound fracture of the leg and William Ball suffered a severe cut over the eye Saturday evening when the sled upon which they were coasting ran into a parked automobile in West Fourth street. Ball's injury, although painful, is not thought to be serious, while Jones is suffering severely from his injuries. The Leslie H. Arthur Post American Legion, of which Jones is a charter member, had the young man removed to Hayswood Hospital Sunday for treatment.

Mrs. Albert Gale, who has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. Alwilda Wheeler, returned today to her home in Richmond, Ind.

PRICES ARE BETTER AT REOPENING OF TOBACCO MARKETS

Improvement Is Seen in Price of Tobacco Although Growers Are Not Satisfied With Figures.

There was another large crowd of tobacco growers in the city this morning to attend the re-opening sales on the Maysville loose leaf tobacco market. Growers throughout this section were very anxious to see how the buyers would take hold and what would be offered for the weed after the little flurry of the past several days.

Agreeably surprised at the prices offered at the starting of the market, the growers were not yet pleased or satisfied but there was no indication that any grower had any desire for the market to be stopped.

The buyers started after the better grades on the floors of the Peoples and Liberty houses at the opening as if they were anxious for them but when a basket of low grade weed was struck, the factory buyers would stop bidding and house men or speculators would take up the bidding and the basket would be "knocked off" by the auctioneer at a very low price. Not a factory buyer seemed to take any interest whatever in the low grades, reflecting the statement of the representatives of their firms at Lexington last week that they did not want the low grades of this crop at any price.

Certainly after seeing that the factory buyers are not taking the low grades even at the very low prices for which they are going, is enough to convince any grower that it is useless to endeavor to market the tail end of his crop.

Good tobacco brought fair prices and there were many crops which averaged over thirty dollars a hundred. Low grades went from twenty-five cents to three dollars a hundred pounds.

The high price at the Liberty warehouse for the morning sale was $54 per hundred while the low price was 50 cents per hundred pounds or one-half cent per pound. At the Peoples' warehouse prices were just about the same. The first three crops sold were as follows:

Swearingen and Adams averaged 30 cents net.

C. S. Swearingen and Adams, averaged 29½ cents net.

Hamer and Mullikin averaged 32 cents net.

The same line-up of buyers as appeared at the opening sales were on the floors this morning. The bulk of the tobacco sold this morning was purchased by Liggett & Meyers and the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. These two firms bid rather spiritedly against each other for the better grades offered. From the Liberty and Peoples houses the buyers went to the Growers and Central.

There was much dissatisfaction among the growers expressed on the market in the price being charged this season by the warehousemen for the sale of tobacco. Efforts have been made to have the warehousemen reduce this sale charge but they contend that they are unable to do so and operate without a loss.

Additional individual crop averages from the Liberty sale follow:

Mullikin & Mullikin	$25.50
Sweetart and Nelson	$26
Laura Taylor	$30.50
Connolly and Pyles	$29.50

CANNEL COAL FOUND IN FLEMING COUNTY

Large Vein of Valuable Coal Is Found in Slip on Farm in Beechburg Neighborhood.

Colonel J. Barbour Russell who is spending the day in Flemingsburg on business telephoned the Public Ledger this afternoon that there was considerable excitement in Flemingsburg today over the discovery of a valuable coal vein in the Beechburg neighborhood that county.

The discovery of the coal was entirely by accident. There was quite a slip on a hillside on the farm of Mr. Watt Strode, near Beechburg, on last Friday and yesterday in investigating the slip Mr. Strode and others found a large vein of what appeared to be coal. A part of the substance was removed and burned. It proved to be cannel coal and this morning a quantity of the coal was taken to Flemingsburg where it was burned as a demonstration.

People in the Beechburg neighborhood are greatly excited over the discovery which will no doubt prove most valuable to those through whose property the large vein runs. It is more than likely that some steps will be taken at once to mine the coal.

SMALLER MARKETS TO OPEN AT ONCE.

Warehousemen from the smaller tobacco markets throughout this section were in Maysville today to attend the reopening sales and were very much pleased with the way tobacco sold and with the way the growers appeared to be somewhat satisfied. It is understood that all nearby small markets will be opened at once. Many of these smaller markets will open with sales tomorrow.

MR. ROBERT HENDERSON DIES.

Mr. Robert Henderson, 45 years of age, died Sunday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wyatt Owens in the Fern Leaf neighborhood after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. Funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at the place of the Germantown lodge of Odd Fellows, of which he was an honored member. Burial will be made in the Germantown cemetery.

TWO CHILDREN DIE.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Adkins, of near Washington, died Sunday morning of croup and will be buried this afternoon in the Maysville cemetery.

The two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Folmer, of Washington, who died Saturday morning was buried Sunday afternoon in the Maysville cemetery.

DEATH AT DOVER.

Mrs. Nellie Ross, 35 years of age, wife of Edward Ross, died Sunday morning at her home near Dover after an illness of only a few days of pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and three small children. Funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon and burial will be in the Dover cemetery.

LITTLE TOBACCO IS BEING DELIVERED.

Practically no tobacco is being delivered to the local market today, the farmers evidently awaiting to see how the market acts today before offering their crops. It is expected, however, that there will be quite a rush during the next few days of the weed to market.

Mr. Alex F. Martin left for Georgetown, Ohio, Sunday, where he will have charge of the packing room of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company during the buying season.

CUT-OUT MEETING IS HELD TODAY AT LEXINGTON

County Chairmen Meet Today at Lexington to Consider the Completion of the Cut-Out Organization.

The county chairmen of the recently organized association to net on a cut-out of tobacco by burley growers of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee, met today at the Lafayette hotel, Lexington.

The meeting was called by Acting Chairman Frank McKee, of Versailles, who presided until the election of permanent officers. The county chairmen who attended the meeting spent the week-end in their home counties in an effort to discover opinion in regard to the proposed cut-out. The sentiment of the various counties represented is not known, but Mr. McKee said Sunday afternoon that he was confident that the best interest of the state at large would influence the action of the representatives.

The primary purpose of the meeting was to effect a permanent organization. The program took the form of a general discussion with no special speakers. The sentiments gathered by the chairmen will be explained, and it is impossible to say, according to Mr. McKee, just what will be the outcome of the meeting.

POLITICS EXPECTED TO OPEN UP RIGHT.

Matters political have been overshadowed for the past two weeks with tobacco talk but now that the sales have gotten underway, it is thought that there will be much political talk heard on the markets. Additional announcements are expected within a short time as there are indications that there are many other candidates getting ready to get into the fight.

FARMERS PATRONIZE SALES.

The big sales now in progress in the city were well patronized today by the tobacco farmers and their wives in the city. The upward tone of the tobacco market put new life in the farmers.

GROWTH OF EAST END CHURCH REQUIRES ADDITION

Officers Forest Avenue M. E. Church Will Plan This Evening Sunday School Addition to Building.

So rapid has been the growth of the congregation and Sunday school at the Forest Avenue M. E. church under the pastorate of Rev. W. H. Morris as to require the immediate enlargement of the building and a meeting of the Official Board of that church has been called for this evening for the purpose of making plans for the immediate erection of a Sunday school room on the west side of the present building.

The growth of the Sunday school has been such as to demonstrate the inability of the teachers of the several classes to make a success of their teaching by all of the classes meeting in one room. The attendance at the church services is also so large as to tax seating capacity of the building and by the addition of a new room to the west side of the building the church will be enabled to have a special Sunday school room and additional auditorium space by throwing both rooms into one.

For some time such a step has been contemplated but the present size of both the congregation and the Sunday school makes the immediate improvement imperative.

FIVE MEMBERS OF PROMINENT FAMILY FOUND MURDERED

South Carolina Shocked By Unexplainable Tragedy In Which Five of Family Are Found Murdered.

Pamplico, S. C., Jan. 17.—Discovery Sunday of two additional bodies disclosed that five members of the Bigham family, living near here, were shot to death Saturday. Bodies of three members of the family, one of the most prominent in this section of South Carolina, were found Saturday.

Authorities here spent the whole day in an attempt to solve the mystery of the murders, but said they had found no solution. They said they were working on the clue afforded by a revolver found in the hand of L. S. Bigham, 40 years old, head of the family, and one of the victims.

The body of Mrs. L. S. Bigham, 60 years old, mother of the head of the family, was found in the yard of the Bigham home a bullet wound in her head.

The body of Mrs. Marjorie Black, 35 years old, was found in her room on the second floor of the Bigham home, also with a bullet hole in her head. The body of Mrs. Black's nine-year-old adopted son was found near the back of the house, his forehead having been pierced by a bullet fired at close range while another adopted son, five years old, was found near a fence in the back yard with a bullet wound in his head. The five-year-old boy was still alive found, but died early Sunday.

The first of the bodies was found late Saturday by E. D. Bigham, brother of the dead man, who occupied a portion of the Bigham home, but who told the authorities that he was out driving at the time the tragedy occurred.

L. S. Bigham, Sr., who died several years ago, served as a member of the South Carolina House of Representatives and Senate and at one time was a candidate for Congress.

RECOMMENDED TO ASYLUM.

Mr. George H. Dickson, of the county, was turned over to officials here this morning by relatives who said the aged man had again lost his mind and he will be recommended to the state asylum for the insane at Lexington. Mr. Dickson has been an inmate of the state asylum twice before having last been sent to that institution in July, 1919, and having returned apparently himself again in May, 1920.

THE TROJAN HORSE OF AMERICAN TRADE.

"Whenever tariff legislation is under consideration in Congress the adequate protection of American industry is made more difficult by the fact that large financial interests in America are directly allied with the foreign interests which desire free entry into American markets," declared the Republican Publicity Association. "These interests antagonistic to American industry are of two different kinds: first we have the American importers of foreign goods who desire to secure their commodities at the lowest possible price; and reap the largest possible profit by the sale of those goods to the American consumer. Second we have American financiers who have made large investments abroad and who desire to make collection of their credits more easy by the shifting of the balance of trade more favorable to foreign countries.

"During the European war American manufacturers, particularly of war materials, made extensive sales to the Allies. These sales were made at war-time prices and largely on credit. The credits were carried largely by the bankers—bankers of the class usually designated as international bankers. These international bankers are finding difficulty in collecting money due them because the balance of trade has been running so heavily against European countries. The debtor wishes to defer payment until the rate of exchange can be brought to a more normal ratio, and this can be accomplished only by an adjustment of foreign trade more favorable to European countries. Larger exports to America and smaller imports from America are desired by European countries in order that they may pay their debts with goods rather than with money.

"It will readily be observed that the interest of the international banker is practically identical with that of the European producer. But it will also be readily apparent that the interests of the American producer are adverse to those of the European producer. Every yard of cloth manufactured in Europe and sold in America means one yard less of cloth manufactured in American mills by the employment of American labor and the use of American capital. Every foreign commodity of any character sold in America means the displacement in our markets of a similar quantity of the same commodity produced in the United States.

"Manifestly the United States can not go on indefinitely selling to other countries more than it buys from them in goods or in services. There must sometime be a balancing of accounts. Recognizing this, no one asks that there shall be a bar raised against the sale of foreign commodities in the United States. The most ardent protectionist does not demand the enactment of a prohibitive tariff law, but there has always been a demand among Republicans, and in recent months among Democrats as well, for the enactment of a tariff whose schedules shall be based upon the principle of the imposition of an import duty which shall equal the difference in cost of production here and in foreign countries. We are willing that European and Asiatic countries shall ship us some goods. We are not willing that they shall send them at prices with which the American producer can not compete.

"American protectionists have no war to make upon the international banker who has financed sales to European countries. It is desired that he shall collect every dollar that is due him. But on the other hand, the American people will strenuously oppose the continuance of an economic situation which permits a foreigner to market his products in the United States at prices which are ruinous to the American competing producer. While the international banker is solicitous for the welfare of the foreign producer, the American banker, who has financed American industries, is also anxious that nothing shall be done that will bring ruin to American factories and consequent unemployment to American labor."

How To Keep in Good Condition

Sound nerves, a clear head, good digestion, strength, endurance and general health depend upon clean blood. If the kidneys and bladder do not properly perform their functions, the blood cannot be clean and pure, for these organs filter and cast out the waste matter, impurities and poisonous acids that cause nervousness, rheumatic pains, backache, languidness, sore muscles, swollen joints, stiffness, puffiness under the eyes and other weakening symptoms.

WAS RELIEVED AT ONCE
"I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for nearly 8 years. Had one very bad spell about 3 years ago. Was confined to bed for 4 or 5 days, unable to turn without help. I commenced using Foley Kidney Pills and can truly say I was relieved at once. I take pleasure in recommending your kidney pills to all who have kidney trouble." John Fleeth, Michigan Bar, California.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

soothe, strengthen, heal overworked, weak and diseased kidneys and bladder. When these organs are working properly, the blood is cleaned and purified, appetite returns, good digestion follows, refreshing sleep is possible, health and strength come again. They have brought relief to thousands of men and women who thought old age was coming on before it was due.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — A good many people who would otherwise have been pretty scornful toward Col. Edward B. H. Gren, son of the late Henry Gren, because he had a Pekinese dog worth $200 that a thief could steal, will be softened by the fact that after catching the thief with the dog under his arm, Col. Gren brought his a meal.

U. S. Navy admirals have received exceedingly cordial welcomes in various parts of the world at various times. But no welcoming committee ever put more real heartiness into its job than did that one which greeted Rear-Admiral McCutty at Ellis Island the other day. Seven Russian children composed the committee, and the Admiral was returning from Washington with the news that if he actually and seriously wanted to adopt the whole seven why, he could go as far as he liked, so far as the U. S. A. was concerned. It was probably because the New York Immigration officials couldn't quite take such intentions seriously that they had stated at first that the eager little Russians would all have to go back to their own upset country. The fact that the Admiral McCutty is a bachelor doesn't seem to arouse any doubts in his own heart as to the success of his family experiment. He collected the mail in Russia and they range from three years to 12, five girls and two boys.

Now that some one else has achieved courage to sue Town Topics there is new interest in town. It has been tried before but without much success. Mrs. Blanche Bonaparte, wife of Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, of New York, Newport and Palm Beach, is the latest entrant into the ring. Her husband is the great-grandson of the King of Westphalia, brother of the great Napoleon. Mrs. Bonaparte alleges that her health an nervous system have been impaired by Town Topics charges at various times that she was "vain and foolish" with an "undue desire" to have her photograph taken.

The information that one-fifth of our industrial and agricultural population depends for its livelihood on foreign trade is an actually startling piece of news to most of us. The great U. S. A. dependent upon any other country in the world or any other people's money? Ha! We should say not! But O. K. Davis, of New York, Secretary of the National Foreign Trade Council, declares that it's true — an then proceeds to prove it. Mr. Davis is devoting himself pretty heavily just now to making every business man in the land appreciate the importance of going to the convention to be held by the Council in Cleveland next May, and he is carrying his figures with him all the time ready to prove anything. Moreover, "Every industry in the country exports some part of its finished products," he says, "and pretty nearly everyone of them imports some essential raw materials." Oh, well, as someone said sometime previous to this, "It's a small world, after all."

Brandon Tynan has stepped into the role of "The Yagabond" in George Cohan's melodramatic farce, "The Tavern." An old Daly has been playing this part, while his lead of the piece, and has made a definite success of it. No reason has been given for the change. Mr. Daly simply states that Mr. Cohan has been good enough to release him and that he is going to revive one of his old successes.

"Big Bill" Edwards, Collector of Customs, has a cheery easy going manner; but when he issues an edict, there is little use in further discussion. So discovered the theatrical managers and ticket speculators who "crowded" his office the other day. They wanted to know—gaspingly—if he really meant what he said in a letter. "In attention to the law compelling ticket brokers to stamp their names and addresses on the back of tickets, together with the sale price, the tax, and the total of the two, 'I certainly did,'" said Mr. Edwards. "The law has been in existence for a long time. It is now going to be enforced." "But—but—well, when must he do this?" cried the crowd. "Immediately, and the penal provisions will be invoked," said Mr. Edwards had entirely ended the conference.

One of the sad things about being separated from one's wife, according to some men, is that it is expensive. Alimony or support added to what they have to pay strangers to do their cooking cuts deeper into their check-books than the old "partnership" arrangement did. But now along comes the New York tax department with a decision that a man who does not live with his wife can't take the $2,000 income tax exemption. "Only $1,000 allowed in that case," it says. "The alimony or allowance you have to pay your wife comes under personal expenses and is not deductible."

PRIZE TURKEY RAISER.

What is believed by Charles M. Embrey, the veteran turkey buyer and shipper of the Waco section, to be the champion turkey crop of the season, was raised the past season by Mrs. Hallie H. Baxter, wife of Andrew Baxter, a well-known farmer of the Brookstown section of the county. Mrs. Baxter during the 1920 season sold him a pair of Azhili, Moberley & Embrey a total of sixty turkeys that weighed an aggregate of 940 pounds for a total of $423. She also sold a few stock turkeys for which she received $49.50, making a total of $472.50 received for her turkey crop this season. Last year, 1919, Mrs. Baxter sold fifty turkeys, weighing 730 pounds, for $264.80, thus giving her a total of $737.30 for her turkey crops for the past two seasons. — Richmond Register.

GIANT HAWK CAUGHT.

John C. Morton, son of Charles Morton, living near Nebo, caught a monster white hawk in a steel rabbit trap recently. The hawk weighed four pounds and measured fifty-four inches from tip of wing and was the largest ever seen by any of the residents of that vicinity. The night before the hawk was trapped he had eaten the head of a rabbit that had been caught in the trap. It was decided to leave the rabbit in the trap the next night as bait for the hawk and the plan worked successfully. — Russellville Messenger.

KILLS HIS SNAKE.

What do you think of this snake story and not an ounce of booze obtainable in this section? Mr. Allison Conley, while walking in his back yard saw a snake fully three feet long basking in the sunshine, as if it were May or June. He didn't back long after Mr. Conley caught sight of the snake, however, for that gentleman came from Wayne county, where they kill snakes and bigger things, if they are fooled with.—Standford Interior Journal.

MAYSVILLE EVIDENCE FOR MAYSVILLE PEOPLE

The Statement of Maysville Residents Are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers.

Home testimony is a real proof. Public statements of Maysville people carry real weight. What a friend or neighbor says compels respect. The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts. Here's a Maysville man's statement. And it's for Maysville people's benefit. Such evidence is convincing. That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor: Henry S. Gallenstein, blacksmith, 124 W. Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills put an entire stop to the pains and my kidneys became well." RESULTS THAT REMAIN: Over four years later, Mr. Gallenstein said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney medicine since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit they gave me has been permanent." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Gallenstein had. READJUSTMENT IN THE SOUTH GOING FORWARD JUST NOW

Manufacturers' Record Says Southern States Have Taken Up Readjustment Problem With "Much Pep."

Readjustment activities in the South have, with the opening of the new year, assumed an accelerated pace following the expansion of building and manufacturing operations which started recently. From many sections reports to the Manufacturers' Record would indicate a broad revival of ordinary activities during the early months of 1921. Gradually, it would seem, a spirit of optimism and confidence is being established. Many large new plants are being completed and placed in operation, thereby giving employment to hundreds of persons, and plans for improvements by municipalities, the various states and the industrial concerns will result in the expenditure of millions of dollars and give employment to additional thousands just as soon as actual work gets under way. Chambers of commerce, civic improvement bodies and business-houses are making rapid progress in promoting buying and building through wisely planned advertising campaigns and the organization of associations of plant employees with a view of killing pessimism.

Reports from various Southern cities indicate that the building activities as a whole during 1920 far exceeded those of the previous year, despite the slump that occurred during the last three months of the year. Taking as example, Baltimore building permits for 1920 exceeded in value those of the previous year by more than $10,000,000; Richmond permits for the year represent expenditures of nearly $7,000,000; Charleston, W. Va., permits amounted to about $2,000,000 and exceeded those of 1919, and while the total of money involved in Fort Worth building operations for the year, representing investment of $10,500,000, was less than in 1919, the number of permits issued was far in excess and the development was widespread.
